

Kriszta

Krisztina Bódis

Krisztina Bódis is an experienced educator specializing in English language and literature, history, and English-Medium Instruction (EMI). She has held several leadership roles in language education in Hungarian universities, focusing on internationalization and student retention through initiatives like orientation programs, intercultural activities, and academic counseling systems. Kriszta has taught courses such as Anthropology of Communication, Between East and West, and Contrastive Cultures, and has been instrumental in supporting both students and faculty in EMI contexts.