

Andrea

Andrea Horváth

Ms. Andrea Horváth is an experienced educator specializing in English language instruction and tourism-related subjects. She holds an MA in English Language and Literature and a BA in Tourism and Hotel Management. With a career spanning nearly three decades, she has taught general, business, and tourism English at institutions such as Budapest University of Economy and Business (BUEB). Her expertise extends to tourism geography, event management, and language exam preparation for international students. Beyond teaching, she has been actively involved in developing syllabi, tailoring language programs, and working as a language examiner. Ms. Horváth also has hands-on experience in the tourism and hospitality industry, having worked in hotels in Cyprus and Greece.